Groundbreaking for new North Patrol Division will be July 17

Police will join with the City of Kansas City, Missouri, and community members to break ground on a new patrol division station for the growing Northland on July 17.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the new North Patrol Division will be at 9 a.m. July 17 at the site located at 11000 N.W. Prairie View Rd. It is on the west side of Interstate 29, south of the 112th Street exit.

Chief Darryl Forté will kick off the event, and members of the Board of Police Commissioners and Kansas City Council will be in attendance. Community members are invited to attend.

The new station will replace the current North Patrol Division located at 1001 N.W. Barry Road. Construction on the new building is slated to last about a year and a half and is funded by the Public Safety Sales Tax.
